Cheese Advanced About One-Half Cent Per Pound—Butter Prices Firmer.

Boston, Aug. 9.—Owing chiefly to stronger prices in outside markets, local cheese dealers have advanced their prices about one-half cent per pound, fancy New York twins now selling at 18½@18¾c per pound in a jobbing way. The local butter market is, perhaps, a shade firmer, but not enough so to warrant changing jobbing prices. Choice eggs continue in light supply, and prices for them are very firm. The other grades of eggs are naturally very steady in sympathy with choice.

PRICE OF HOGS DROPS

Beef Stock Easier at Brighton; Receipts of Livestock Increase.

Brighton, Mass., Aug. 9.—Hot weather affected the demand at the Brighton stockyards yesterday, especially for hogs. Beef stock was easier also, though only a few fancy cattle were offered.

Arrivals for the day at Brighton included 18 cars from the Boston & Maine and nine cars from the Boston & Albany. During the week the arrivals were, one car hogs and 14 cars cattle from the West, 23 cars livestock from New York state, nine cars from the Boston & Maine and two cars from the Boston & Albany. Arrivals for the day at Watertown were 16 cars, making the total for the week at both terminals 92 cars, against 86 cars for the preceding week and 66 cars two weeks ago.

One bunch of heavy beef cattle was held at above 9c, but that figure was about the top for the day. Good cattle sold at 7@8c and light cattle at 6@7c. Best beef cows brought 6½@7c and occasionally a fraction more for fancy. Good cows brought 5@6c, ordinary cows 4½@5c and heifers 3½@4c.

Bulls were in fair offering, with fancy selling at 6½@7c or better, good stock at 5@6c and bologna at 4½@5c. Fancy calves sold up to 11c for fancy, with bunch lots of best stock at 10@10½c, fair lots at 9@10c, and grassers and drinkers at 8@8c.

Hogs were easier and some buyers were not bidding by a half cent as much as a week ago. Best lots were selling at 9½@10c, with rough lots at 8@9c.

Sheep and lambs were in smaller offering and prices were firmly held at 8@10c for lambs and 6@8c for sheep.

Milch cows were easier with an over supply offering. Ordinary milkers sold slowly at $35@45; good milkers at $50@75 and fancy milkers at $80@100, this being the top for anything offered.

STATE FAIR PREPARATIONS

Secretary Davis and Assistants Energetically Engaged in the Work.

White River Junction, Aug. 9.—Despite the excessively warm weather, Secretary Davis and his assistants are putting in full days in preparation for the Vermont state fair to be held here on the state grounds Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 12, 13, 14 and 15.

Investigation with contractors shows it would be impractical to provide the large grandstand with reserved seats this season, as this would mean an entire remodeling of the stand, but several aisles will be made with steps added, so that the convenience in reaching seats will be greatly increased.

Turnstiles are to be placed at the stands and an extra ticket office added at the further end of the large grandstand. The reduction made in the price for automobiles to 50 cents is meeting with the approval of the automobile driving public.

One of the features of the advertising is a specially designed banner which is being widely distributed. Railroad station loan-tos are also a new advertising feature this season. It will be of interest to the horsemen to announce that the track is in excellent condition. Several horses are being "worked" out at the present time and the drivers state that fast time will be made on the track this season. The services of Chester Pike, the popular starter, have been engaged to give the "go" in all the races.

The executive committee of the state fair commission, cautious shippers of stock to the fair to inquire regarding railroad rates at their shipping point and to be sure to take advantage of the free return rate on the stock.
